WHO WE ARE

An extension of your team.

Origin Digital Consultants is a proudly Indigenous-owned, Supply Nation certified technology consultancy based in Boorloo (Perth), Western Australia. We service our clients nationally.

We design, build and run the technology that improves how organisations operate, across software, AI, cloud, managed IT and cybersecurity.

We are senior-led, every time. The people named in a proposal do the work: no juniors padding hours, no escalation queues, no hand-offs. We are vendor-agnostic and recommend what fits the problem, building advances such as AI into how we work.

Jeremy Wolf

FOUNDER & DIRECTOR

A Palawa man with connections to Plangermaireener Country in north-eastern Tasmania and ties to the Melukerdee Mob, Jeremy pairs a Bachelor of Accounting and Business Law with 15 years across digital consulting and enterprise technology. He leads Origin Digital with a focus on practical digital transformation and Indigenous-led innovation, pairing commercial strategy with cultural perspective.

Adam Fitzgerald

TECHNICAL DIRECTOR

A Bachelor of Computer Science (Curtin University) with 20 years across software engineering and enterprise technology, Adam shapes the architecture and engineering behind Origin Digital's solutions. He pairs technical depth with hands-on project leadership and a focus on strong, lasting client relationships.

Australian Cyber Awards: 2026 Winner and 2025 Finalist, Indigenous Cyber.
